

Walk Through the Grades With Whidbey Island Waldorf School

Tuesday, February 14th 8:30—10:00 a.m.

Gather for introductions and program overview, observe several grades' classes in process, and reconvene for questions and discussion.

A Waldorf education embraces the whole child, schooling the head, hands and heart. Subjects are integrated with one another, making learning concrete and relevant to the child's life experience. Waldorf teachers stay with their class from Grades 1 through 8, fostering the development of cognitive, social, physical and linguistic capacities over time. Each child is nurtured in body, soul and spirit, developing their unique gifts and inspiring a life-long love of learning.

*Accept the children with reverence,
Educate them with love,
Send them forth in freedom...*

94% of Waldorf graduates
attend college;
88% earn their degrees.

They are consistently among top achievers in academics and the creative fields
in the high schools
and universities they attend.

*Capturing the child's imagination, a Waldorf education fosters curiosity and confidence,
a reverence for the surrounding world and the capacity for creative, free thought.*
